

Employee Readiness Boot Camp

If your company wants qualitative data on your new hire candidate, then we encourage your HR department to contact us.

- We have a system for measuring employability of that candidate in a group learning environment.
- Your potential new hire has the technical skills; what about skills to be part of a hi-performing team?
- Can you really afford the wasted time and loss production? Then have to start a new search.

Well, maybe you're ready to implement our 5-week, 10 sessions (60 minutes) boot camp into your evaluation process. We can tailor it to include critical agency culture germane to your company.
